This Girl Recovered From Consumption

The makers of Eckman's Alternative, which is doing so much good for Consumptives, are continually in receipt of really wonderful reports of recoveries brought about solely through the use of this medicine. Here is one specimen:

421 Second Ave., Aurora, Ill. "Gentlemen: Pardon me for not writing sooner, but I wanted to see if I would stay cured. I can now truthfully say I am perfectly well. Since a child of two years I have been ailing with lung trouble, which grew worse as I grew older. At the age of fourteen the doctor said if I could not be sent South, I would surely die of Consumption. I will answer all letters sent to me, asking a history of my case, from any one suffering from lung trouble."

(Signed Affidavit) ETTA PLATH. "Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles and in rebuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by A. R. McIntyre, T. H. Carr, Culley Drug Co., The Marshall Drug Co., The Cave Drug Store and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet, telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratories, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence."

Three years later reports still well. Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles and in rebuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by A. R. McIntyre, T. H. Carr, Culley Drug Co., The Marshall Drug Co., The Cave Drug Store and other leading druggists. PROBLEMS OF THE CITY BOARD

Acting on the motion of City Commissioner J. C. Nye last evening, the board of city commissioners instructed the chief of police to proceed immediately to remove the obstructions at Washington avenue and Twenty-fourth street, the Eccles corner.

Mr. Nye stated that the one having the building in charge had said that the obstructions would be removed as soon as the brick could be sold, but Nye said that the corner should not be turned into a brick yard, and the other commissioners agreed with him. The orders to the chief will be that he move the obstruction immediately.

Manager H. A. Sims, of the Alhambra Theater company, filed another protest against the method of advertising the Orpheum theater, referring to it as "hawling" on the street. He stated that it was annoying to himself and employees and that many people had made complaint. The matter was referred to the superintendent of public safety.

Petitions, signed by O. J. Stillwell, William B. Porterfield, Sam Kline, Charles Barlow and George Whittey, heading the lists, which were quite long, protested vigorously against the billboard advertising in the city. There were four different petitions protesting against the billboards, both as to their unsightly condition and as to the unsightly pictures found on them. The petitioners were all prominent business men and residents of the city and they urged that immediate action be taken in the matter of removing the boards.

It was stated by Commissioner Browning, superintendent of public safety, that a case is now pending in court that will settle the question as to the right of the city to remove billboards and that as soon as the case could be disposed of definite action could be taken on the petitions at hand. The matter, therefore, was referred to the legal department.

Students of the Ogden High school studying physiology and hygiene, in a lengthy communication to the board, called attention to the unsanitary condition of slaughter houses in the city and requested that the board institute a remedy in some way. The students recommended that the city establish "municipal slaughter houses" and place them under the care and inspection of the municipality. They claimed that this is done in other cities and that the results have been satisfactory. This matter was referred to the public safety department for consideration.

Claims Allowed.

The following claims were allowed and the auditor instructed to draw warrants for the several amounts: Public affairs and finance, $371.60; Public safety, $353.39; Street and public improvement, $36.68; Art Metal company, 29.70; E. G. Neighbors, assistant janitor, 8.00; Job Pingree, 4.00; Total, $104.67.

On request of George Shorten, sanitary inspector, his salary was raised from $75 to $90 a month and the salary of his assistant was fixed at $50. The salaries were recommended by Superintendent Browning of the public safety department.

The claim of James S. Crosby for injuries to a horse, was handed to the superintendent of finance and public affairs for consideration. It was said that Mr. Crosby's horse stepped in a hole caused by the overflow of water from the water mains of the railway company, and it was suggested that the railroad people be required to settle the account with Mr. Crosby.

The board of commissioners, as a committee of the whole, recommended that the grade for the sidewalk on the south side of Twentieth street, between Washington avenue and Adams avenue, be raised and that the walk be placed in line with the walk on the street west of Washington avenue. The recommendation was adopted and the engineer was instructed to advertise for bids. Property owners on the street complained that the sidewalk on the south side of the street had been placed so low that it was next to impossible to reach the residences.

A number of property owners petitioned the commissioners to take up the matter of having the Ogden Rapid Transit company have its roadbed on Washington avenue, between the river bridge and Twenty-second street. The question was referred to the superintendent of streets and public improvement.

The ordinance granting the privilege of building a spur track on Pacific avenue was referred to the city attorney for revision. The track in question leads from the main line of the Union Pacific to the Wright-Whittier Canning factory.

George Treseder complained that his garden has been damaged by the breaking of a water main and he desired some action toward abating the trouble, also asking for damages. Commissioner Mayor Fell was given the matter for consideration and adjustment.

The Hooper Commercial club petitioned that the city furnish drinking troughs for teams on Lincoln avenue and Twenty-fourth street. The councilmen stated that the city had been made for the watering of teams in the north and south part of the city, but that the west side has no place to water teams. They also requested that the city provide some convenient place for the hitching of teams while the country folks "spend their money with the Ogden merchants." Referred to the commissioners as a committee of the whole.

The petition of E. D. Hopkins for the transfer of the liquor license of the firm of Hopkins and Rowlands to him was granted and the recorder was authorized to certify the action of the commission to the judges of the district court. This has reference to the purchase of the Exchange saloon on Twenty-fourth street by Mr. Hopkins.

It was determined that the city shall pay the special tax in full charged against the municipality for the opening of Twenty-ninth street.

WORLD'S MARKETS

WHEAT PRICE WEAK.

Chicago, May 28.—Liberal world's shipments and generally favorable foreign crop conditions had a depressing effect today on the price of wheat. Absence of rain in western Kansas and Nebraska led to a sharp rally, but the effect did not last. Slowness of cash demand counted against the bulls. The opening was the same as last night, 1-2 down. July started at 1.10 1-2 to 1.10 7-8, unchanged to 3-8 lower, rose to 1.11 1-4@3-8 and then broke to 1.10 3-8.

Although good buying on the part of commission houses made corn recover from initial weakness the market gave way to bearish influence of wheat. The leaders in the purchasing turned to the selling side. July opened at last night's level to 1-4 off at 75 to 75 1-4, advanced to 75 3-8 and afterwards dropped to 74 5-8.

Oats followed the course of other grain. Trade reached a fair volume. July started 1-4@3-8 to 3-8@1-2 lower at 50 3-8 to 50 1-2 touched 50 1-4@3-8, swept upward to 51 and later sagged to 50 1-4.

The fact that buying was only of a scattered kind eased off the provision market. An increased run of hogs west asserted a similar influence. Initial sales ranged from 5c lower to a shade advance higher with September options $18.37 1-2 for pork, $10.75 for lard and $10.32 1-2 for ribs.

ing told in Wall street. Several weeks ago certain minority interests who have been officially connected with the company began laying foundations for a campaign to pick up some Nevada Consolidated stock in the open market. A pool was formed and brokers were supplied with buying and selling orders, it being the purpose of the campaign, first to create considerable dissatisfaction among the shareholders and then to sell their shares. Brokers had received orders to buy the stock thus disclosed.

Somehow the plans of the pool leaked out, and, so the story goes, interests in charge of the Utah Copper company, which controls the Nevada Consolidated, put buying orders into the market for whatever Nevada Consolidated might be offered. By this time the pool members had become enthusiastic and began selling freely. They kept on selling in the hope that the quotation would finally weaken. Then they discovered that they had been caught at their own game. They immediately made a rush to get back their shares, and, in attempting to do so, forced the price up on themselves to 23 1-3. Now they are wondering how it is possible to get back the stock thus lost and make up the shrinkage in their bank accounts that resulted from the deal.

UTAH COPPER WORK IMPRESSES VISITOR

That one must actually see for himself the Utah Copper operations at Bingham to appreciate the extent of this company's activities is the statement of Charlie Stimpson of James A. Pollock & Co., who was a visitor at Bingham on Sunday. The guest of General Manager D. C. Jackling, Mr. Stimpson inspected the property from the bottom of the big hole to the top of the old Boston Consolidated hill.

"No matter how much one reads or hears of these operations," stated Mr. Stimpson, "he cannot form any adequate idea of the extent of this work. And when the hour for blasting arrives the visitor is given one of the most unusual treats of his life. As blast after blast goes off one gets the impression that the roof of the world is being lifted. It is almost inconceivable the good advertising it would be for Utah and her resources were tourists encouraged more to include a glimpse of Bingham in their sight-seeing visits to Utah."

"Each visitor to the state should know that this disburser of millions of dollars annually in dividends is the greatest copper proposition in the world, and one that actually moves 60,000 tons of material, ore and waste, each day."
